Irwin's Home-Run Hit Made When Two Chicago Men Were On the Bases.

(Special to The Evening World.) POLO GROUNDS, NEW YORK, June 7.-The great and only "Pop" Anson and his aggregation of white-stockinged ball tossers from the banks of Lake Michigan were the New Yorks' opponents at the Polo Grounds to-day.

This is their first bow to the Metro politan cranks this season, and, according to old "Anse," his team have just begun to get together, and he proposes to at least make the Giants do some tail hustling to win the present some tall hustling to win the present sories.

The Chicagos fill in the remainder of the week, and as they are popular with New York rooters, the attendance about the heavy. "Anse" donned a uniform sand covered the initial bag himself 10-may. He was roundly applauded, and pood-naturedly took all the guying fired at nim. The weather was ideal for the attonal rame, and a large crowd was present. The serounds were in magnificent condition.

Stafford was tried in right field today, in place of Tiernan.
First Inning-Ryan died at first on his easy grounder to Davis. Dahlen met a similar fate on his ground hit to Ward.
Wilmot sent an easy one to Doyle, and the Windy City boys went out into the field. No runs.
Schriver missed Murphy's third strike but got the ball to first in time to retire the sx-Tale boy. Burke sent a neat double to left. He got to third on a wild pitch. Davis sent a sharp one to Parroit and was out, but Burke got home. Terry hit Doyle a hard blow on the arm with the ball and Doyle took first. The game was delayed for several minutes, Doyle being painfully injured. Clark was sent to run for Doyle. Ward sent a liner directly into Farroit's hands.

The second race furnished a magnificent struggle between Sir Walter and Banquet. Both opened up at even money, but the choice of the talent was Sir Walter, and on him the rolls were placed. St. Anthony excited some interest by racing away in front like a rocket, but he was done at the top of the hill, where he boited clear to the outside.

This left Picknicker in front, with Sir Walter and Banquet close together behind. Doggett soon found that he was badly pocketed a quarter from home, so he pulled Sir Walter and sent him after Hanquet, with whom Sims made the most of the advantage the pocket gave him. Sir Walter caught Hanquet at the furiong pole and then commenced a furious drive. Inch by inch Sir Walter gained on the game little gelding, and finally won by half a length. Picknicker and St. Anthony were beaten off.
